ABOUT ME

Creative designer dedicated to environmentally friendly architecture, conservation, and organic living spaces. Skilled in graphic design, sustainability planning, ecology, photography, and creative writing, I blend artistry with a commitment to environmental stewardship.

From 2019 to 2024, I worked as an Environmental Designer at GreenLeaf Studios, creating sustainable housing projects that incorporated natural materials, renewable energy solutions, and eco-conscious landscaping. Between 2016 and 2019, she served as a Conservation Educator at NatureFirst, leading workshops on environmental conservation, organic farming techniques, and sustainable living practices.

I hold a Bachelor of Arts in Sustainable Design from the University of Arts London and a Diploma in Environmental Biology from Oxford College. I believe design should work in harmony with nature, inspiring communities to embrace sustainability in everyday life.
